Seniors battle it out for superstar title

Brisbane's seniors are being encouraged to showcase their talents at the auditions for Senior Superstar 2011.

The Public Trustee of Queensland, Peter Carne said his Office has been supporting Senior Superstar for three years and the standard of competition increases each year.

"Senior Superstar is a great way for older people to showcase their talents, I am always impressed with the diverse range of acts and the quality of performances," Mr Carne said.

"There's terrific talent and feeling of community and family at the all performances and I encourage everyone go along to a local event.

"Past performers have told me of the difference the competition has made to their lives. The time spent preparing for their acts and the supportive environment has proved reinvigorating for many seniors.

"The Public Trustee is proud to support such a worthwhile community event," Mr Carne said.
